

Class Project Proposals

As before, I'd like to invite you to present a project potential to our class. Unlike before, the class' focus is on creating sustainable projects without any codependence in our community. We welcome any presentation on any issue you may see for your organization. The class are well-trained in doing root-cause analysis and using the latest leadership theories and research to create incredible processes that are sustainable and self-learning. Also, unlike before, this year's class will be mentored by the Leadership Knights (last year's brilliant graduates).

Please take some time to consider the challenge you face with your organization or someone you might know. As a flagship program for the community, recently honored by the UN's Global Forum for success stories, we intend to make a tremendous impact on our community, whether that's business, non-profit, government, and family.
